

Overview

This workshop is planned as an active and engaging workshop with substantial input from law students. The aim is to:

- ✎ showcase innovative clinical courses and not-for-academic-credit pro bono activities that exist in law schools across Australia
- ✎ provide opportunities for the private profession, non-profit sector and government to discuss how best to contribute to experiential learning for the next generation of legal professionals, and
- ✎ discuss opportunities for law schools, law firms, and public legal service providers to work more closely together and collaborate in projects that will better engage students in clinical courses and not-for-academic-credit pro bono activities.

Note: Cost of entry is free, but registration is essential.

Program

This program is subject to change – please see the website for program updates and speaker details – www.a2j08.com.au

Thursday 13 November

1330-1400 Registration

1400-1410 Welcome Address

✎ John Corker, National Pro Bono Resource Centre

1410-1500 Panel Discussion — The Student Experience

Law students discuss some innovative clinical courses and not-for-academic-credit pro bono activities and consider what has worked as well as what could be improved.

✎ Professor Jeff Giddings—Convenor, Graduate Program in Dispute Resolution, Griffith Law School (Chair)

✎ Figen Cingiloglu—law student; Pro Bono Students Australia coordinator (UWS)

✎ Liz Snell—law student; Kingsford Legal Centre (UNSW)

✎ Shirley Southgate—A/Director, Kingsford Legal Centre (UNSW)

✎ Others TBA

1500-1540 Panel Discussion — Law School, Law Firm, Non-Profit Sector and Government Experience

What can law firms, non-profits and governments contribute to the education of the next generation of legal professionals?

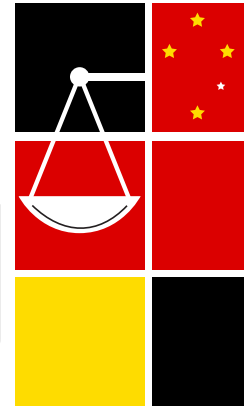

✎ Associate Professor Simon Rice—Director, Law Reform & Social Justice, ANU College of Law (Chair)

✎ Annette Bain—Executive Director Freehills Foundation and Pro Bono Counsel, Freehills

✎ Ruth Heazlewood—Chambers Manager, NSW Public Defenders Office

✎ Professor Patrick Keyzer—Deputy Dean (Students & Curriculum), Faculty of Law, Bond University

✎ Ed Santow—Senior Lecturer, UNSW law school

LEGAL EDUCATION WORKSHOP

LAW STUDENTS LEARNING BY DOING—LINKING LAW SCHOOLS, LAW FIRMS & GOVERNMENT

National Access to Justice
and Pro Bono Conference

Pre-Conference Program

Presented by the
National Pro Bono Resource Centre

Thursday 13 November 2008

1.30pm — 5pm

Tuscan Room, Sydney Masonic Centre,
Goulburn Street, Sydney

Registration

National Access to Justice
and Pro Bono Conference
Pre-Conference Program

Legal Education Workshop:
Law Students Learning
by Doing – Linking Law
Schools, Law Firms & Government

Thursday 13 November 2008
1.30pm — 5pm
Tuscan Room, Sydney Masonic Centre,
Goulburn Street, Sydney

The National Access to Justice and Pro Bono Conference is presented by the Law Council of Australia and the National Pro Bono Resource Centre

Contact

Please send your completed registration form to:

By Mail

Law Council of Australia
GPO Box 1989
Canberra ACT 2601

By Fax

02 6248 0639

Registration Enquiries

Jan Meyer
02 6246 3732
info@a2j08.com.au

Program (cont.)

Note: Cost of entry is free, but registration is essential.

1540-1600 Afternoon Tea
"Pro Bono Matters" — A short video from UK National Pro Bono Week

1600-1700 Discussion Groups — Working Together
How can law schools, law firms, non-profits and government work better together to engage students in clinical courses and pro bono activities that will better address the legal needs of Australians?
✎ Facilitated discussion in groups & reporting
back to the whole group chaired by Skye Rose,
Senior Project Manager, National Pro Bono
Resource Centre.

Registration Details

Name: _____

Job Title: _____

Organisation: _____

Email: _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____

Mobile: _____

www.a2j08.com.au